21st Century leaders appreciate that there is a new currency in leadership. This new currency is influence over authority. The most effective leaders Connect and Engage with their teams. Sharon will share with you key insights into how exceptional leaders are able to inspire action and be authentic and impactful in the workplace.

It's a Nut, So Put Down the Sledge Hammer

High stakes conversations form an integral part of a Leader's role. Whether it's challenging team performance, resolving workplace conflict or raising issues with the board, leaders must be able to navigate difficult conversations and do so courageously. This keynote will equip you with essential tools to navigate this often complex terrain with conversational dexterity.

S. O. D. It

Leadership Accountability is mission critical in 21st Century workplaces. As organisational structures flatten, teams have greater expectations of trustworthiness, authenticity and accountability. This keynote shows leaders how developing an S.O.D. organisational culture will accelerate your competitive advantage.

What's that you're writing on my Leadership Epitaph?!

All Leaders are shaping a legacy within their organisation. Most do so by default as opposed to by design. The most effective and impactful leaders are intentional about their impact and think about how they will exit from the day they begin. This keynote will challenge leaders to use the idea of leadership legacy as a tool for thinking and planning forward.

Keynote speeches range from a 60 min session to a full day training seminar and can be tailored to suit your requirements.

Sharon is also available as a facilitator and compere and has several years' experience of bringing energy and engagement to wide range of professional settings.

"The day was amazing! I could not believe the level of team spirit, positivity and enthusiasm which was ignited! Everyone came in the next day talking about it. It was wonderful to see the extent to which everyone has such similar aspirations for our school now and in the future. A productive and fun day, thank you."
